-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --
Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rawat et al.

Rawat et al. shows, in the background, page 1, paragraphs 7, 10, 11 and 12, what is well known in the e-commerce and parsing electronic correspondence. Web sites are engaged in electronic commerce (e-commerce) (provide terminal merchandise information). A user places an order (providing input to a terminal, thus notify store) for the purchase of goods or services through electronic channels, the seller ("e-tailer") (store terminal) or service provider generally supplies an e-receipt (input confirmation) subsequent to receiving the order and payment authorization. These e-receipts, electronic correspondence delivered to an e-mail account or address designated by the user, typically include relevant information concerning the transaction: the purchaser's name, shipping and billing addresses, and credit card information; the appropriate product identification, quantity, and unit price; an identifying order reference number; the order date; the shipping status; and so forth (select merchandise information, location information). Information concerning a particular order is usually available (detection unit, able to check an unconfirmed order) for a limited time at the e-commerce site, which hosted the transaction. Ordinarily, a user must provide the correct user name, password, and order reference number information each time that user desires to access order information at the host site.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Kitagawa et al. and Haluska show systems of interest.

3. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Michael Cuff whose telephone number is (703) 308-0610. The examiner can normally be reached on 8:00 to 5:30.
